COVID-19 Vaccines Protect People with Disabilities
COVID-19 Vaccines are Important → People with disabilities are at risk for COVID-19. Many live in group homes or cannot wear masks and social distance.

Safe → They have been given to millions of people around the world. Many tests show that the vaccines are safe.

Useful → The vaccines help prevent serious COVID-19 symptoms, time spent in the hospital, and even death.

Available → You can receive your vaccines at hospitals, clinics, and pharmacies. There are several choices for vaccines.

Indiana COVID-19 Vaccination Resources

www.go.iu.edu/COVIDvaccines

INDIANA INSTITUTE ON DISABILITY AND COMMUNITY